

Tuesday, March 06, 2007

THE DISPATCH Online
www.the-dispatch.com

Salvation Army Boys and Girls Club participants Brianna Diggs (front left) and Cedric Liles reload their rollers while Zephin Rector (background from left), Brandon Lomax, O.J. Ndokwu and Kevin Horton roll paint over graffiti Saturday at the Elk Street railroad tunnel site near East Third Avenue during a community service project sponsored by the club. Bobbie Jamison/The Dispatch